

List

Medicinal products for oral use containing wheat starch or starch of unknown botanical origin – last revision 7-7-2011

Please note: This list contains medicinal products that are authorised in the Netherlands on the date of publication. If a manufacturer decides to stop selling a medicinal product and the marketing authorisation is withdrawn, the product may be sold off for another year afterwards. In such a case, recently withdrawn medicinal products could still be on the market. Manufacturers can also change the composition of their medicinal product by means of an amendment approved by the MEB. Given the long shelf life of medicinal products, batches containing the old composition could still be on the market. Therefore, patients should always check the package leaflet for the exact composition of the medicinal product in the package. You can find package leaflets at www.geneesmiddeleninformatiebank.nl.
